Who are we

Bocari International BV is an independent and pragmatic engineering company with over 20 years of engineering excellence.

We would like to help the industry to realise, improve and develop their processes and/or their locations so they can work smarter, faster, more durable, cleaner, safer, more flexible and with more efficiency. We prefer to work on location, but we also have our own workspace in Breda (Netherlands).

We have a team of experienced professionals who consistently strive to deliver exceptional value on every project.
